

A child wearing an orange t-shirt and a grey cap is pointing upwards with their right hand towards a world map. The map is rendered in white and light blue, set against a bright blue sky background. The child is positioned in the lower right corner of the frame.

International College Fair

hosted by

The Center for the Advancement and Study of International Education and the Council of International Schools

September 19, 2009

Why do you want to meet the reps?

- Actively seeking IB students
- Well-respected educational institutions
- Well-versed in IB
- Scholarship opportunities
- Advanced placement/credit possibilities

Consider new horizons

Suggestions for today

- Visit your top list
- Keep your mind open
- Will you be an interesting addition to the college/university community?
- What will you add to the college/university?
- How can this college/university enhance your life experience or world view?